Federal Contracting Institute Awards 2nd CSCM Graduate Certificate

VIENNA, VA.—January 31, 2012— Centre Consulting, Inc.’s Federal Contracting Institute (FCI), the leading training provider focused on the federal government acquisition space, has recognized its second graduate of the NCMA-Centre Certified Schedules Contract Manager (CSCM) program. Barbara J. Paszternak passed her final CSCM exam on January 13, 2012.

A CSCM is knowledgeable about all facets of managing schedule contracts, including Federal Supply Schedules and other multiple-award vehicles. FCI’s partnership with the NCMA’s certification program marks CSCM with distinction. It sets the credentialed individual and his/her workplace apart from others in the same profession. A certified individual communicates that he or she has attained a certain level of expertise and is committed to maintaining the highest level of professionalism. Like all participants, Barbara was required to complete all of the courses within a 5 year period, as well as pass a multiple choice exam. The CSCM certification is valid for two years. “My experience with Centre has been excellent in all aspects,” said Barbara. “Most assuredly the content of the training, the professionalism and knowledge of the instructors, class scheduling and support staff, and the willingness of everyone to go above and beyond in answering and responding to questions before, during, and after training.”
