Federal Contracting Institute Granted DAU Equivalency

Tysons Corner, VA.—February 2, 2012— Centre Consulting, Inc.’s Federal Contracting Institute (FCI), the leading training provider focused on the federal government acquisition space, has officially been recognized as a DAU equivalent course provider. In order to be accepted for this acknowledgment the proposed courses must correspond to the courses offered by the DAU. FCI now offers CON 100: Shaping Smart Business Arrangements, CON 120: Contracting for Mission Support, and CON 215: Intermediate Contracting for Mission Support to help acquisition professionals obtain FAC-C certification.

“With several of these courses scheduled to be retired in the near future, the Federal Contracting Institute is pleased to become an equivalent provider to help FAC-C candidates fulfill their mandatory training requirements within the time remaining,” says Debbie Hoffman, FCI’s Manager of Training Development and Certification. “FCI augments the DAU-approved curriculum with our decade of legal and contracting expertise, to offer students a unique and interesting classroom learning experience. Highly-rated instructors have been selected for these courses based on their plain-English, interactive teaching styles. Overall, we are excited to provide these new resources to our students,” adds Hoffman.

Seats are now available in the following sessions in our Tysons Corner training center:

- CON 100: Shaping Smart Business Arrangements – December 10-14, 2012
- CON 120: Contracting for Mission Support – November 26 - December 7, 2012
- CON 215: Intermediate Contracting for Missions Support – February 27- March 7, 2012
